The Axe

By Frances Randolph

GEORGE WASHINGTON is rapidly becoming a sort of combination Alumni Association for the various District High Schools. The Central Club, a modest bud last year, has blossomed out in full glory, inspiring Tech and Eastern graduates to follow in its course. Western has not as yet been heard from, but will probably join the ranks in the near future. Are we George Washington people or are we still in the stage of adolescent high school rivalry?

WE can not resist running this, though it is quite irrelevant. It is one of the gratuitous contributions which at intervals flood the office:

"Listen my children and you shall hear
Of the midnight ride of Mike O'Leary.
He had no chains on a slippery street,
Lead kindly light; the chimes are sweet."

Whether this brainstorm, as the writer very aptly calls it, was meant as a warning to the night-prowlers of the University, we can not say with any degree of certainty. However that may be, it is certainly an argument for dragging your "ball and chain" around with you.

THREE of the four Assistant Managers of Girls' Rifle this year are in the University on High School Scholarships, and the other has already distinguished herself for her high grades. Our rifle girls are certainly fine marksmen.

THE S. P. E. Ford got itself into trouble the other night by surreptitiously and with base intent moving itself onto the sidewalk in front of the gym during one of the fraternity games and parking there in spite of orders given in no uncertain tone of voice by a cop whose way was thus blocked. Snooks Levy rushed to the rescue of the fraternity pet and finally convinced the cop that the harmless animal must have been coerced into the deed. It is understood that the S. P. E.'s are on the verge of collapse from the fright they experienced upon hearing that they might have to ride on the street cars.

AND speaking of funny places to park, a milkman in this section of town could tell a good deal about one queer episode. He drove into the alley beside Stockton Hall one beautiful sunny morning to deliver his bottles of concentrated health and happiness. In the meantime, one of our lawyers drove in behind him, parked, closed his windows, locked his doors, and went to class. For the hour and a half that the wagon was compelled to wait, the air was full of the kind of words more fitting for a bootlegger than a milkman.

PHOEBE MOOREHEAD has won the tennis tournament by beating Frances Walker, who had been picked to win. We notice in the Hatchet account that "Miss Walker had two legs on the cup" and was expected to win it permanently by adding a third victory. Since Miss Walker in common with the rest of humanity, has only two legs, we can not help but feel it unreasonable to expect her to put on a third one.

THE game last Saturday with Buffalo reminded us of the old football days of several years ago except that George Washington was on a different end of the score.

THE Interfrat Smoker is again in the foreground of events. About this time of year, the girls always begin to wonder what it is they find to talk about, and to pray that the subject does not at all resemble that most popular at the sorority teas. However that may be, the girls may rest assured that it can not be treated in the same gently feline manner which is their own restricted field.

WELL, we'll see you at the C. U. game!

BUFFALO MACHINE CRUMPLES UNDER TERRIFIC ATTACK

INVADERS OUTCLASSED

Three Thousand Fans Turn Out to See Crummen Trample Invaders

By CAMPBELL STARR

George Washington's gridiron juggernaut hopelessly crushed the Buffalo University eleven at the Wilson Memorial Stadium last Saturday. Flattening the opposition which confronted it, this steam-roller traversed the field nine times, leaving in its wake the figures 59-0 deeply imprinted in the turf as a reminder of what it can do on dry terrain.

Sapp and Wilton, alternating in the driver's place, ran roughshod over the Blue and White team from the Empire State, for the edification of the three thousand enthusiasts who had assembled to witness the event. The widely-heralded Bisons failed to put up the stiff battle expected of them, and this overwhelming defeat was a pleasant surprise to the Buff and Blue fans, who showed their enthusiasm by their snappy cheering, ably supplemented by Commulada and his band of thirty pieces.

Backfield Runs Wild.

With Athey, Slaughter and Hayman ripping great holes in the Blue and White defense, the entire Crum backfield romped down the field at will. Wilton and Sapp led the onslaught, and these two flashes accounted for seven of the nine touchdowns garnered by the Axemen. Mock and Coleman scored one apiece to make up the total.

Coleman turned a spectacular play as he scored the final touchdown of the fray. Going around left end from the 15-yard marker, he let the ball drop in front of him only to catch it on the bounce as he crossed the Bison's goal. Mock had a fine day. He intercepted one of Mould's passes and made a beautiful 30-yard run for a six-pointer. His punts were exceptionally well placed and were consistently longer than those of Zacher and Metz. Clapper, although he did not score, broke loose on several nice runs.

Due to the air tight defense of the Buff and Blue line, the ball was kept in the invaders' territory practically all of the time. The Carrickmen found it impossible to gain through the line, and the few yards negotiated by them were the result of wide end runs and a tricky triple pass. Fumbles were rare on the part of the Axemen, and Sapp and his colleagues seem to have recovered from the attack of "butter-fingers" which has followed them.

Crummen Score Early.

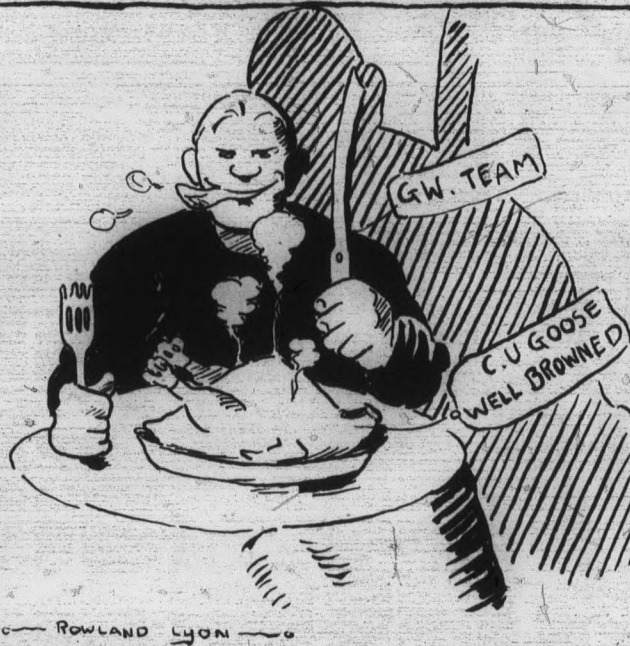

The game was less than a minute old when George Washington pushed its first tally across the chalk line. Schaffron fumbled Mock's kickoff, and Growton fell on the oval, giving the Buff and Blue a first down on the Bison's 20-yard line. Wilton hurried himself through the line for ten yards, and Sapp skirted the end for the initial score of the game.

Shortly after this, Buffalo recovered a fumble and tried a forward pass. Mock leaped into the air, gathered in the pigskin, and romped thirty yards for another touchdown. After a brace of passes netting 55 yards had placed the Crummen within scoring distance, Wilton crashed through center, scoring the third touchdown.

In the second period Mock made short work of a rally by the visitors. A blocked kick had given them possession of the ball on George Washington's 20-yard line, when Mock intercepted a heave. He immediately punted out of danger. After an exchange of punts, Sapp caught a kick in midfield, and by a brilliant run

MASONS OPEN DRIVE FOR SCHOOL FUNDS

Will Endow Chair of Diplomacy in George Washington University

SECOND IN UNITED STATES

Special Life and Annual Memberships Open to General Public As Well As Masons

The National League of Masonic Clubs Educational Foundation, which has promised to endow a School of Diplomacy at George Washington, launched its campaign for the raising of funds at a banquet held in Pittsburgh, Saturday, November 14. The 600 members who were in attendance represented various clubs throughout the States of Pennsylvania, Ohio, New York, Maryland, and the District of Columbia.

Reports from the club representatives brought out the fact that many of the organizations had subscribed to the fund 100 per cent. Three New York clubs pledged themselves for $1,000 each and in Cleveland fifteen clubs have already reported 100 per cent subscription. A check for $327, representing 100 per cent subscription from a group in Warren, Ohio, was submitted. Among the five District organizations who have been reported as having every member enrolled is the Acacia Fraternity at George Washington University.

In the system which the Masons are using to raise money for the Foundation, there are five classes of gifts, each entitling the giver to membership in the Foundation. The first, general membership, is limited to members of the Masonic Fraternity, the fee being $1, renewable annually, and recognized by a certificate.

Award Token to Life Subscribers. The second is life membership, also limited to members of the Masonic Order, the fee being a single payment of $25, and recognized by a life member token issued by the League of Masonic Clubs.

An unlimited class of sustaining members forms the third group, and such memberships may be obtained for $100.

Founder membership may be had by anyone giving $1,000 to the fund, and contributing membership by those contributing a minimum of $5 annually for five years. This is recognized by a special certificate.

So far as is known, the only school of foreign service for undergraduates in the United States is located at Georgetown University. This school

DRAMA GROUPS MEET

The opportunity to join the Dramatic Conferences with Miss Katherine Brown, now dramatic coach, is still open. There will be three separate units on Lighting, Costumes, and Scenery, meeting regularly to study problems in these fields of dramatic technique. This opportunity is available to any student interested, and not limited to members of the dramatic clubs. After the groups are formed, no additional students will be admitted to the sessions. Students who are interested in the technique of production are asked to send their names in to Professor Bolwell's office at once, indicating the phase of work in which they are interested. Dates and place of meeting will be announced later in the Hatchet.

ANNUAL GREEK SMOKER TONIGHT IN GYMNASIUM

Get-Together Designed to Arouse Pep for Tomorrow's Grid Battle

Plans for the annual Inter-Fraternity Smoker to be held in the Gymnasium tonight at 8 o'clock, have been completed, and everything tends to show that it will far surpass any previous smoker. In as much as the smoker is being held on the eve of our annual tilt with Catholic University, the entire football team will be present, as well as Coach Maud Crum.

President Lewis will give a short address, as will Coach Crum, who will speak on the development of the football team, what it has accomplished, its aims, and the prospects for the C. U. game. Jack Slaughter, Captain of Football, will also give a short talk, stressing the importance of the support of the student body behind the football team.

To Practice Cheers

The cheer leaders for the game will be present, and the yells which have been printed in the Hatchet from time to time will be practiced. Eugene Sweeney, the composer of "Buff and Blue" and "Alma Mater" will be present to lead the singing of these songs. Everything possible is being done to give the team a rousing send-off, which will show that not only all fraternity men, but the entire school is behind the team.

Many innovations, in the way of amusement and entertainment, have been promised, among them being an act by the Kappa Sig Syncopaters, which, according to all rumors, will furnish something new and full of spirit.

The smoker promises to be a short and snappy affair. It will be over early so as not to interfere with the students' engagements for the evening. All fraternity men are urged to attend this smoker to foster the feeling of good fellowship, to become acquainted with each other, and to show the football team that they are behind them to a man.

GIRL ASSISTANT RIFLE MANAGERS HOLD HIGH SCHOOL SCHOLARSHIPS

Alice Williams, Esther Iglehart, and Marjorie Folsom Have Excellent Academic Records; Active on Hatchet Staff

Three of the four Assistant Rifle Managers are attending the University on scholarships! This interesting fact has just come to light. Although Edna Kilpatrick says that she did not choose her assistants because of their brains, certainly they are not lacking in any of the qualities which go to make up ideal range officers. Incidentally all are members of the Hatchet Staff.

Alice Williams came to George Washington in 1924 on the First University Scholarship. She was out for Rifle last year, and has done signal work in the Player's Dramatic Association, on the Hatchet, and has been assigned a position on The Cherry Tree for this year. She is also the winner of the Kappa Delta Scholastic Cup awarded last year to the Freshman making the highest average.

Esther Iglehart comes to George Washington this Fall on the 4th University Scholarship. She has had two years' experience in Rifle at Central and was Assistant Manager there for one year. She is in the Players, and on the Hatchet Staff.

Marjorie Folsom also comes from Central where she has had two years of Rifle experience. She is attending the University on a Columbian Women Scholarship. Her interest lies in the direction of Publications and extra-curricular clubs.

Frances Heid, the fourth Assistant Manager, although not at G. W. on a scholarship, has a reputation as a poet.

G. W. VICTORY UP TO STUDENTS

Our football team has come to the final barrier to its most successful season in fifteen years. Only Catholic University remains in the way of the Hatchetmen in their march for a season record unblemished by defeat at the hands of teams of its class. To quote Coach Crum, our director of athletics and football mentor, "The winning of the Catholic University game depends upon the spirit of enthusiasm of the cheering section. The teams are well matched and the outcome of the game rests solely upon the spirit and fight instilled in the team by student cheering."

Every student that can walk, ride, crawl, or be rolled to Brookland Thanksgiving Day will be at the game, this much is a foregone conclusion. But how many of these students will have their heart and soul so tied up in winning the game that they will cheer and yell, parade and sing, until they are black in the face, hoarse and unable to stand? Yet this is what every student should be willing to put into the game if the Buff and Blue is to be carried to victory over the Maroon and Black.

Friday a few cheers were attempted in front of Lisner Hall, but the cheerleader was mocked for his efforts. Yelling at the Buffalo game was fair, but was spoiled by a number of students who persisted in making fun of the efforts of the two cheerleaders. This spirit must stop. Loyal supporters of the Hatchetmen should see to it that the cheerleaders are given the fullest cooperation of the cheering section if some benighted individuals have to be persuaded by unpleasant means.

The football team is ready. Winning the Catholic University game is now up to the student body. Are we going to fail Coach Crum and his valiant team? WE ARE NOT.

G. W. OR ORGANIZATIONS?

It is an interesting fact that G. W. spirit is at present centered about its organizations rather than in the University, which each of those organizations has a part in making. Fraternities, religious clubs, high school clubs, publications, dramatic clubs, language, history and political science groups, each one having its own particular interest and its own activities, find hearty support among the student body. Why do not things which are of pure University interest also command as much support? Why cannot pep meetings, football games and chapels be attended by the student body 100 per cent? Is it the organizations or the University that is taking the place of utmost importance in the mind of the George Washington man and woman? However great may be the work of any one group of people, it cannot be of greater value than work for the whole. And anyone who is giving all his mind and heart to a small part of the University, neglecting the University itself, will find when the graduates that he has been so engrossed in the thing nearest him that he has not seen the finest thing of all which was just a little beyond.

LET'S HAVE A HOMECOMING DAY

Last Saturday was "Dad's Day" when the dads of the football members were spectators at the game with Buffalo University. "Dad's Day" was intended to be an occasion similar to that of the western Universities which make much of such a day. Unfortunately, no one seemed to be actively sponsoring the "Day", so few knew about it.

But tomorrow is the annual Thanksgiving game with C. U., when all G. W.'s great, near great, lesser lights, and hosts of nearby alumni will crowd into C. U.'s stadium to root for the Buff and Blue. Why not make Thanksgiving Day, next year and in succeeding years, a great fall "Homecoming Day" for the hosts of alumni, with a special program for the alumni, students, their parents and friends, with the C. U. game as a climax?

Every large University in the east has such a day. What could be more fitting than that George Washington have such an occasion, sponsored and conducted by a special committee of the faculty chosen for that purpose by the President, and culminated by the Turkey Day tilt, G. W.'s greatest get-together of the entire year.

Ruth Bondurant entertained at bridge on November 18th for about ten members of Kappa Delta and a guest of the chapter.

On the auspicious date of Friday the 13th, Delta Zeta defied all superstition and entertained with an informal dance at the Playhouse, 1814 N Street. Happy Walker furnished the music and the party turned out to be a huge success.

The Delta Zetas returned to their childhood last Tuesday night long enough to enjoy a Kid Party given in the chapter rooms. Peppermint sticks, animal cookies, and rompers added to the pervading atmosphere of youth and merriment.

Miss Edith Finney was hostess last Sunday afternoon at a most delightful tea given in her home in honor of the Delta Zeta Chapter. The house was beautifully decorated with flowers and candles, the decorations and refreshments carrying out the Delta Zeta colors.

Helen Perlman entertained at dinner and theater last Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Mary Montgomery, the Chi Omega Inspector from the National Office. The guest list included Ermyrtrude Valden, Elsie Talbert, Mary Temple Hill, Betty Armentrout, Mary Marony, Laura Byers, and Emily Pelkinton.

Miss Mary Montgomery was also the guest of honor at a dinner which was given by the Chi Omega Fraternity Sunday evening.

Theta Delta Chi is having a Thanksgiving Dance at the fraternity house tonight.

Tom Howell, a student in the Architectural College, was recently married, and he and Mrs. Howell are now living near the University at 21st and F Streets.

Margaret Boswell went to New Haven for the Yale-Princeton game and the dance that night. She spent the week-end with her sister, Roberta Boswell, a former student of George Washington, who is now attending the Yale School of Fine Arts.

Sigma Chi entertained a number of co-eds at an informal party at the house on Monday evening.

Hellen Hanford was hostess to a bridge and shower for Virginia Williams on Friday evening, November 20.

Ruth and Alice Williams have moved into their new home in Cleveland Park.

Helen Meeks entertained a few friends at bridge Thursday night. Betty Jaquette, Phoebe Furnas, and Virginia Sinnott were among the guests.

Dorothy Lewis will spend the Thanksgiving Holidays in New York, attending the Army-Navy game while there.

Mary Alice Laury, "Twink" Berry, Elizabeth Stickley, Margaret Black and Lydage Black motored over to Annapolis last week-end to see the Navy-Bucknell game.

NAME BUSINESS MANAGER OF DRAMATIC FESTIVAL

At a recent meeting of the Dramatic Council, Lonnelle Davison, treasurer of the Dramatic Association of George Washington University, was elected business manager of the Spring Dramatic Festival. At the annual Festival each producing club of the Dramatic Association will present a play representative of its particular type of dramatic work, and all other University organizations will be represented in the Union Vodvil.

EXCHANGES

We welcome to our exchange family "The Mercer Cluster," student publication of Mercer University, Macon, Ga. It presents a variety of subjects and compares most favorably to our other papers. From one of their write-ups one would infer that the Glee Club at Mercer is truly a live wire.

School spirit is strongly displayed in the Technique of last week. A special edition of twelve pages was issued for the great home-coming day at Tech, in which athletics played the most important part. An interesting feature of the paper is a pictorial section containing pictures of the players, the coach, and the sponsors of the football team.

The current issue of the "Pioneer" contains a most interesting column entitled "Salt and Pepper," of which wit is the essential characteristic. All those who read this column vote it a novel and entertaining feature.

The following article, relative to the George Washington-Oxford Debate, is clipped from "The Papyrus": "In the recent debate between George Washington University and Oxford on the Russian question, a woman appeared on the former's team for the first time in the history of international debating."

College girls becoming robbers? A report from the Colonnade, student publication of G. S. C. W., says that a regular hike turned into highway robbery a few days ago when two wagons loaded with sugar cane were assailed by the students of that college. They pleaded guilty, giving as their excuse an uncontrollable longing for lots of fun and a little cane. No case was made against them.—Mercer Cluster.

ECONOMIST SPEAKS AT MEETING OF MENORAHS

Miss Elsie Gluck, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, and at present a professor at Brookings Graduate School of Economics, addressed the Menorah Society at its last meeting Wednesday night.

Miss Gluck spoke on the "Economic Condition of the American Jew." She told of the beginning of various leading industries in America, tracing their development through the period of labor unrest, and poor factory conditions to the present day.

A debate is to be held at the next meeting of the Menorah Society, the subject of which is to be announced in the next issue of the Hatchet. The program committee, in charge of Martin Shefferman, has arranged a musical program.

Medical Sorority Meets

Dean William Cline Borden was the principal speaker at the second regular monthly meeting of the recently formed Medical School sorority, held at the Medical School, Friday afternoon, November 20.

Dean Borden, in approving of the organization and pledging his support, traced the history of society from earliest times with the resultant need of fraternalism as the struggle for existence grew keener and man could no longer rely solely upon his own abilities. Fraternalism had to develop, and remains today in various manifestations, even more necessary now than it was ages ago.

Phi Lambda Kappa

Rho chapter of Phi Lambda Kappa medical was kept busy last week when it initiated ten men, organized a new chapter at Georgetown University, and then climaxed in honor of the new men with a dance Saturday night at which the Dixie Royal Band delivered the syncopated strains.

Phi, the new chapter formed at Georgetown, was given its start last Wednesday evening. The exercises incident to its beginning were conducted by officers of Rho chapter and

Dr. W. I. Gash of Philadelphia, representing the national organization. In the initiation, held the same evening, one honorary member, Dr. J. Stein, assistant professor of anatomy, was admitted besides the ten who furnished the evening's entertainment. These latter were: B. Sells, H. Fruchter, J. Novick, I. Alpher, L. Tickner, L. Kessler, N. Lewis, H. Miller, J. Katz and N. Wilson.

SPANISH CLUB HEARS SENOR DAVID BOLERNO

Senor David Bolerno spoke on "North and South America," at a meeting of the Spanish Club Thursday, November 19.

In speaking of world neighborliness, Senor Bolerno said that the United States and Porto Rico should strengthen the feeling of friendship which they have developed. He said that Porto Rico was the connecting link between North and South America, and spoke of the development of that country. In closing, he urged maintenance of the existing relations between the two Americas.

The next meeting of the Spanish Club is to be given over to entertainment, and an informal dance is to follow. The date of the meeting will be announced in the Hatchet.

When it's Thanksgiving—and the teams are drawn up for battle on the gridiron—when the first touchdown goes over and the grandstands rock with frenzy—have a Camel!

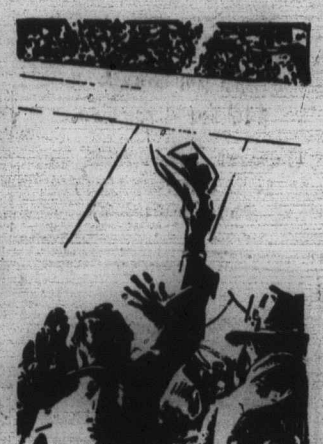

Into the making of this one cigarette goes all of the ability of the world's largest organization of expert tobacco men. Nothing is too good for Camels. The choicest Turkish and domestic tobaccos. The most skillful blenders. The most scientific package. No other cigarette made is like Camels. No finer cigarette can be made. Camels are the overwhelming choice of experienced smokers.

WHEN the rival bands are playing to make your blood tingle. And the cheers and answering songs sweep back and forth between the opposing thousands of rooters. When, following that tense hush, a swift player darts out from the flashing formations on the gridiron and races across the goal for the first touchdown—oh, man, or superman, when the taste of joy is too keen to endure—have a Camel!

For Camel is the boom companion of your joys. Room as far as you will from the prosaic things of every day, Camel will be the truest smoke friend you ever had. Not a tired taste, not a cigarette after-taste, not a regret in a million Camels! Just full and fragrant smoke contentment, just added zest in living.

So when your own college's team tears through for its first smashing goal this Thanksgiving Day—when life seems fullest of the frenzy of happiness—joyfully apply the fire and taste the smoke that's loved by millions.

Have a Camel!

Our highest wish, if you do not yet know Camel quality, is that you try them. We invite you to compare Camels with any cigarette made at any price. R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co.

WILTON INCREASES LEAD IN INDIVIDUAL SCORING

Buff and Blue Team Gathers Total of 279 Points Against Opponents' 81 Totals

In the race for top honors in individual scoring among the college football teams of the District, Craig Wilton, George Washington luminary, has increased his lead over Planksky of Georgetown to 24 points. While Wilton was getting his four touchdowns against Buffalo, the Hill-top star was virtually idle, scoring but two goals after touchdown in the Fordham game.

Meanwhile, Manfreda and Garvin, to the dismay of the Kendall Greeners, have succeeded in replacing Igo and O'Neil on the list of the ten highest players.

To date the George Washington eleven has registered a total of 279 points against 81 for its opponents.

Player and Team	T.D.	T.P.	Total

SONGS BY GENE SWEENEY BEING SOLD ON CAMPUS

Copies of Gene Sweeney's songs, published by the Interfraternity Council, have been placed on sale at Corcoran Hall, and other prominent places on the campus, as well as being distributed among the various fraternity houses and sorority rooms, where they may be secured for 25c. The songs have been attractively printed, with a unique cover design by George Riggs, of the Architectural Department, making the song a true G. W. one. Gene Sweeney is one of the prominent members of the Glee Club, and the newly organized G. W. Orchestra, and both of his songs, "Buff and Blue" and "Alma Mater," are already well-known on the campus.

NAVY HARRIERS WIN OVER HATCHET TEAM

Academy Team Goes to 25 to 30 Win Over G. W. In Six-Mile Race

George Washington finished its first cross-country season at Annapolis Saturday, where the local harriers lost to the middies by a 25 to 30 score. Thomas, of Navy, stepped the six miles in 34:22, with Willett and Shipley, of G. W., a few steps behind.

Following the leaders were: Carpenter (Navy), Massie (Navy), Domigan (G. W.), Butler (Navy), Richardson (Navy), Anderson (G. W.), and Bixby (G. W.). The remainder of the field was so scattered that a number were detained when the keeper, thinking that all had passed, raised a drawbridge in order to favor a passing boat.

Previous to Saturday's encounter the Hatchet runners had lost by a lone point to Maryland and tied the undefeated William and Mary aggregation. Although they have failed to chalk up a victory, the team feels that the showing against the competition afforded has been such as to entitle cross country to official recognition as a separate sport next year.

The T. U. O. puddle jumper, which was the only car to complete the trip to William and Mary, had not sufficiently recuperated to make the venture to Annapolis. To date, advertisements have not been answered by the finder of the lost muffler, and thus friendly police have warned against its use as a motor vehicle, although no objection has been raised as to it being pushed.

Due to the late organization of the cross-country team, most schools had completed their schedule and were unable to arrange a meet. Consequently, a number of dates were offered for meets next spring which should assure George Washington of the best competition in the South Atlantic district for the coming track season.

LEAD NARROWS IN FRAT BASKETBALL

Sigma Nu Ties S. A. E.—Theta Delta Lead League Two

ALL GAMES ARE FAST

But Five Games Remain Before Contest Is Decided and Cup Awarded

By GEORGE N. GARDNER

Sigma Nu tied with Sigma Alpha Epsilon for first place in League 1, and Theta Delta Chi defeated Theta Upsilon Omega to gain the leadership of League 2, in the third week of the Interfraternity Basketball series. Each of the three leading teams has won three games and lost none.

Some very good basketball prowess was displayed during the course of the eight games played last week, and some of the fraternity players will probably be seen later during the varsity season. Crowds of fifty to a hundred spectators were on hand each evening to root for their favorites.

Kappa Sigma defeated Acacia Monday evening by the one-sided score of 26 to 11. Although they won by a large margin, the Kappa Sigs did not entirely outclass the Acacias. The floor work of the latter team was very good, but they simply could not hit the basket and Kappa Sigma could.

Sigma Nu Defeats Sigma Chi

Sigma Nu overwhelmed Sigma Chi the same evening, taking the long end of a score of 16 to 4. The game was fast and rough, and both teams were strong in the defensive department, holding the score to a low total.

In the Delta Tau Delta-Acacia game Wednesday, which the Delts won, 23 to 19, neither team was able to score until the first quarter was almost gone. Once started, both teams scored freely, and the first half ended with Delta Tau Delta leading 11 to 10. In the last half the lead went from one team to the other, changing every few minutes, the Delts finally winning out.

Sigma Chi won a close battle from Sigma Phi Epsilon Wednesday, 21 to 20. The winners did their best playing in the first half, and led 10 to 4 at the end of that period. In the second half S. P. E. staged a splendid rally and scored 16 points, as compared to only 11 by Sigma Chi, but the advantage gained by the victors in the first half was too much to be entirely overcome.

Sigma Nu crushed Phi Sigma Kappa with a 27 to 11 score in a postponed game played Thursday night. Phi Sigma Kappa threatened until the middle of the third quarter, tying the score 8-8 at that time. Sigma Nu then launched a point scoring drive that did not end until the game was finished, running up a score more than double that of their opponents.

S. A. E. Wins Easily Over P. S. K.

In the first game Friday Sigma Alpha Epsilon downed Phi Sigma Kappa 19 to 8. S. A. E. decidedly outclassed Phi Sigma Kappa, and the latter team did not threaten at any time during the entire game.

Theta Delta Chi's victory Friday over Theta Upsilon Omega meant the leadership of the league for the former team, but it was disastrous for the T. U. O.'s, shoving them clear down to third place. Theta Delta Chi led by only one point at the end of the half, 9 to 8, but in the final period succeeded in running up the score to 34 to 17 by making good on almost every opportunity at the basket. Buckingham made five field goals for Theta Delta Chi in the last half and Bartlett gathered four field goals and a free goal.

In an extra period game Saturday evening Theta Delta Chi defeated Delta Tau Delta 23 to 23, strengthening its hold on the league leadership, and advancing one more step toward the league championship. The game was the first of the series to go beyond the regular length. The score was 23 to 23 when the game should have ended, and Theta Delta Chi scored five points in the extra five minutes.

Two Games Are Forfeited.

Sigma Phi Epsilon forfeited its game with Phi Sigma Kappa Saturday. S. P. E. forfeited also to Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

The date for the final and deciding game in League 1, Sigma Alpha Epsilon vs. Sigma Nu has been set for November 24. Kappa Sigma has yet to play Theta Upsilon Omega, Theta Delta Chi and Delta Tau Delta. The first two games have been scheduled for November 23 and 24, and the third will be played soon. Either Theta Delta Chi or Kappa Sigma, both undefeated, may win the championship of League 2, or Theta Upsilon Omega may tie with one or both of them for first place.

SPLINTERS FROM SPORTDOM

Gene Sweeney's Songs Published

The Football Hop a "Victory Ball"

Wilton Still Leads in Scoring

Compulsory Physical Training

By DAN MCGREW

"The Buff and the Blue" and "Alma Mater," two songs by Gene Sweeney have been published by the Interfraternity Council for distribution among the fraternities at the Thanksgiving Day melee with Catholic University at Brookland. These songs are in sheet form, bound with the University colors, and make a very attractive appearance. The purpose is to give the cheering section something to sing this year. In Gene's own words, "to drown out that old 'C. U. Will Shine,' which is the favorite of the Brooklanders."

Plans for the Football Hop are almost completed and those in charge hope to have the biggest ever held at the University. Certainly, the team is deserving of a rousing reception and the Hop seems the best way of giving it to them. Here's hoping that it takes the shape of a "Victory Ball" after the C. U. game. If this game is not won by a decisive margin, the boys will feel that the season is a failure. Indications point to the biggest crowd ever to honor the warriors of the gridiron, at this Hop.

Compulsory Physical Training for Freshmen girls is an innovation at G. W. this year and bids fair to develop greatly by another year. Plans are under way for like courses in the curriculum for Freshmen men next year. The time is coming when George Washington will have to adopt the strictest code of athletic regulations, and this is but another step in working up to this code. In a few years we shall see Freshmen teams in football, basketball, baseball and track take the field each season against other Fresh aggregations, with the result that in the sophomore year all members of the squads will have had the rudiments of their favorite sport instilled into them and the Varsity coaches will not have to waste valuable time on fundamentals.

By putting four touchdowns across the last white line in Saturday's run-away with Buffalo, Craig Wilton ran his total of points for the season up to 83, far ahead of his nearest rival, Planksky, of Georgetown who could add but 2 points to his total of 57 against Fordham. Sapp, Coleman, and Mock also added to their totals. Wilton was not credited with his 24 points gained against Randolph-Macon by the local papers, but a recheck showed that he led Planksky by 2 points after the game. The Hatchet printed the corrected totals in the last issue.

59-0. That tells the tale of the Buffalo game. Buffalo put up a brave scrap but never had a chance from the first whistle. Members of their team will be remembered long by this writer for the way they came back time and again to take their licks, never flinching. They were fighters. This victory brings the Hatchet score up to a total of 22 points against their opponents 24 for the season. 113 points is the record for the last two games. Bucknell is the only team to date to have crossed the goal so stalwartly defended by the Axemen. Mt. St. Marys is the only other team to score on the Buff and Blue and that by a field goal.

Women's Rifle Competition to determine the champions of the United States will not be limited to collegiate teams as has been the case in the past. This will tend to make the competition much stiffer and to make the honor of winning greater and more sought. However, the girls have their eyes and hopes set on this pinnacle. According to pre-season form, they look likely to win out this year, after having been runner-up to the University of Washington co-eds for two consecutive years. Sixty girls have reported for practice.

The G. W. harriers ended their season last Saturday, losing to the Naval Academy, 25 to 36. Despite the fact that they have suffered two losses and a tie our first cross country team has given a splendid account of itself. Both losses have been by narrow margins.

The other two meets were a 28-27 loss to the University of Maryland and a tie with William and Mary. Capt. Hurd Willett has won first honors in these two meets and Domigan has been second and third.

If the old adage that figures don't lie is true, George Washington's grid team has a well-founded claim to the football championship of the east. It's this way. Dartmouth defeated Hobart, 34 to 0, or five touchdowns. Buffalo, in turn held Hobart to a 13 to 6 score, or a difference of one touchdown. Last Saturday the Hatchettes trampled on the Bisons to the tune of 59 to 0, nine touchdowns. Nine minus six equals three. Therefore, the Buff and Blue has a margin of three touchdowns over Dartmouth, champions of the east. Q. E. D. But don't tell that to any of the Hanover boys.

Mother: "Where are you going?"
Willie: "Down stairs to get some water."

Mother: "In your nightie?"
Willie: "No, mother; in this pitcher."—The Cabinet.

PHOEBE MOOREHEAD WINS TENNIS TITLE

Defeats Frances Walker in Annual Fall Tournament Finals Tuesday

AWARD CUP TO WINNER

Team Captain Held Championship For Two Years; Was Favored To Win Again

By PATTY ANN JAMISON

Phoebe Moorehead, "dark horse" of the tennis tournament, smashed her way to a fine finish by her defeat of Frances Walker, seeded champion of two years and captain of the girls' team, 13-11, 6-1, in the final match played on the Monument Courts Tuesday, November 16. Miss Moorehead, in winning the singles title, upset all net dope and racket fans were caught off guard, as it was supposed that Miss Walker, holder of two legs of the challenge cup, would not go down to defeat in the fall finals.

The first set was a hard fought battle and lasted nearly two hours. Miss Moorehead won the first game on her own service, but Miss Walker made it 2-2 with her opponent leading until the set was deuced at the 10th game. Both netwomen then settled to steady work and for 13 games each won her own service, few of the games even reaching a tie. On two occasions Miss Walker's score stood at set point, but each time the ball was returned beyond her reach. The 24th game broke the deadlock, when Miss Moorehead smashed Miss Walker's speed serves just beyond the net before the champion could touch them.

First Set Decides Match.

This set was according to Miss Walker, the longest she had ever played, and the winning of it proved to be a matter of endurance. The former champion with her usual steadiness kept well off the defensive until the last part of the set when she began to show signs of fatigue. Miss Moorehead's splendid form and her powerful forward drive caught her opponent badly off guard at times.

It was clearly her ability in placing the ball that kept her in the lead. Her line drives were swift and her backhand showed improvement over her match in the semi-finals with Cecyle Taylor. Miss Walker displayed superior strategy throughout the game and she led in steadiness against her opponent's flashy playing.

The first set had decided the battle. With a steady biting wind, that had been against Miss Moorehead in the first set, and darkness falling, it was evident that the racketeer who had finished ahead would have the advantage. The second game was the hardest fought of that match and was deuced several times. The decision was reached when Miss Moorehead again placed the ball out of her opponent's reach. She kept a steady lead until the sixth game which Miss Walker won, but not being able to regain her stride the set was finished 6-1.

Match Marked by Fast Court Work.

The match was marked by its good front court work and for the ease with which both netwomen covered their field. Miss Moorehead served with a precision in keeping with her excellent form. Only one double fault was chalked to her credit. Miss Walker's noted swift serve was very effective throughout the first set but her opponent returned more balls toward the end, helping to wear out in this way the powerful stroke of the former champion.

Miss Moorehead, registered as a freshman in the University, is a graduate of Simmons College of Pennsylvania. She has done excellent work in District matches and it is hoped will be able to play with the Varsity team next spring. As a night student she is at present unable to take sufficient hours to be eligible for other than match work but expects to increase her school work next semester. The tennis cup will be presented in chapel some time next week it is reported.

NEW MAYA HISTORY TOPIC OF ADDRESS

Dr. G. S. Morley Addresses
Archaeology Groups on New Mayan Civilization

SECOND OF LECTURES

Many Curious and Beautiful Buildings Among the Works of
This Period

At the second of series of lectures on archaeology, on Monday, November 16, Dr. G. S. Morley, of the Carnegie Institute of Washington, spoke on "The New Mayan Civilization." He accompanied his lecture with slides taken by himself and his associates during their excavations of the ancient Mayan cities.

These showed how, through the records on and conditions of the building, their history was pieced together. They showed how the Mayans had banded together in a league which was the prototype of the Aztec's league, lasting for almost two centuries. This league was ended abruptly by a war with Mexico when the Mayans were conquered, but were actually benefited because of the new religion, art, games and government that were taught them.

Rubber in Early Use

Their greatest epoch, from 1191 to 1498 A. D., was directly after the war with Mexico. The end of centralized authority came in 1441 or 1448, with an internal revolution, but Europe received her first notice of the Mayan race in 1511. Finally the Mayans were colonized by the Spaniards in 1541.

These people were well acquainted with the use of rubber long before it was seen in Europe. Cortes found them playing games with rubber balls. They also had a very lime mortar. Among the most curious buildings were a small-shell tower probably used for astronomical observations, a beautiful wall of sacrifice, the Temple of Jaguars, and the Temple of a Thousand Columns, and a temple with masked panels. Many gold ornaments were worn. As far as is known only one Mayan city was walled.

Present day architects, as well as archaeologists, have learned much from Mayan temples, even though their development was stopped suddenly.

SPIRITUAL NEED CITED BY SPEAKER AT CHAPEL

William Cooper, of Y. M. C. A., Compares European and American Students

America, as the most powerful country, can become the most hated country if it disregards the spiritual brotherhood of the world, said William Cooper, of the Y. M. C. A., in a chapel address last Friday.

In his speech he upheld the opinion that has been expressed by both Hoover and Coolidge, that the question of the future is not economic but moral and spiritual.

Mr. Cooper saw little difference between the English and American student, agreeing with the Cambridge student, who, in the Cambridge-George Washington University debate of two years ago, said that he saw little difference between the Americans drank ice-water, ate corn on the cob, and ate hog dogs, whereas the English ate dogs that were neither hot nor cold. He noticed, however, that the American student had a larger knowledge of happenings in Europe than the European had of happenings in America.

The student council of Europe left four outstanding impressions upon Mr. Cooper. He was first impressed by the poverty of the students who were making efforts to obtain an education. Secondly, he found that the European student has a passion for social readjustment and is studying the Soviet government in Russia. Third, he found religious enthusiasm and the ancient spiritual interpretation of religion prevalent among them. Last, he observed their strange attitude toward America. They see around us only a wall, built of immigration and tariff laws, to keep them from sharing the natural bounties we enjoy.

MASONS OPEN DRIVE FOR SCHOOL FUNDS

now furnishes training for a large proportion of those who enter the Diplomatic and Consular Service of this country. As Georgetown, a Catholic institution, reaches for the most part only members of that faith, it was considered by the Masons a real need to found a school which would offer training to all denominations.

George Washington was chosen for the establishment of the school because of its advantages in the way of location, the ideals of the man whose name it bears, and because in Washington the University can train those already in the service of the government for this special field.

MASONIC CLUB TO HOLD SMOKER DECEMBER 10

On December 10th the George Washington University Masonic Club will give a smoker to the Masons of the University in the Men's Lounge Room of Stockton Hall. The purpose of this meeting is to get the united support of the Masons of the University for the National League of Masonic Clubs Educational Foundation.

President Lewis and other prominent Masons are expected to be present.

CONSTITUTION UNREAD BY AMERICANS, SAYS TIGERT

"There aren't one hundred people in the United States who know what is in the Constitution," declared Commissioner of Education Tigert of Tennessee before the chapel last Monday. In support of his statement, he challenged his audience to find such people. The occasion of Mr. Tigert's speech was Constitution day in Education week, celebrated all over the country last week.

Mr. Tigert, in speaking of education, stressed the necessity of learning a few facts well rather than getting a smattering of many and thoroughly understanding none.

CATHOLIC UNIVERSITY HAS EDGE IN PAST TILTS

Brooklanders Have Beaten Hatchetites Three Times in Last Five Years

In turning back over the pages of football's record book, we find that out of the five games played thus far between those old rivals, George Washington and Catholic University, the score stands three to two in favor of the Brooklanders.

Football was discontinued at G. W. during the war and the year it was resumed witnessed the defeat of Bryan Morse's aggregation at the hands of the Maroon and Black. Coach Robb's cohorts repeated with a win in 1921. The following year, the Buff and Blue eleven decided that something had to be done about this, so they slipped the Brooklanders a decisive setback.

In 1923 the game was played at the Central Stadium, and those brave spirits who defied a steady disheartening rain saw Capt. Lynch and his side-kick, Garvin, wade through the morass to a victory over the Hatchet-men.

Last year it was a different story. Solidly backed by five thousand staunch rooters, Coach Crum's machine swept the Maroon and Black gridders off their feet. The spirits of the loyal fans, chilled by the freezing wind which whistled across the stadium, were fired anew by the whitewashing which the Hatchets bestowed upon their foes. Then, too, there was that memorable snake dance between the halves.

What'll it be this year?

A summary of the games to date follows:

1920	C. U. 13—G. W. 0
1921	C. U. 19—G. W. 7
1922	G. W. 14—C. U. 7
1923	C. U. 26—G. W. 0
1924	G. W. 14—C. U. 0
1925	????

HATCHETITE TEAM WILL MEET C. U. THURSDAY

Last Saturday the Brooklanders went to an easy win over Gallaudet, 60 to 0. The Maroon and Black was not extended to win, and gained about as it pleased.

Foley, Adams, Manfreda, Garvin, Fischer, Heiner, Conveigh, Bailey, and Smythe are the backfield men of the Catholic team. Adams and Foley are the first string quarterbacks. McGann, Dufour, Moore, O'Dea, Regan, McGovern, Mayer, Long, White, Tierney, Linskey, Shields, and Connors, form the forward wall of the Brookland squad. Dan Regan, guard, is the team's captain.

Outside of the Blue Ridge game no direct comparison of scores can be obtained. The two teams are of about the same weight and have shown about the same defensive and offensive strength. Each features a running attack from open backfield formation, and each has men adept at line plowing. Allshouse and Growton at ends for George Washington will encounter two excellent men in Mayer and Connors of Catholic University.

The game should be close and keenly contested throughout, the breaks of the game deciding the winner.

EDUCATION TALK GIVEN AT WEDNESDAY CHAPEL

"The School and the Teacher" was the subject of an address given by Joy Elmer Morgan, representative of the National Education Association, in Chapel on Wednesday, November 18.

Mr. Morgan discussed the work of the National Education Association and its relation to the public schools and teachers. He traced the progress of our educational system from its beginning down to the present time, emphasizing the need of co-operation and interest on the part of the people in order that this progress may continue.

The change in the Senate rules proposed by Vice President Dawes will be discussed at the next meeting of the society.

Hatchet Reviews of Current Shows

By JACK MILLIGAN

SHH!

Washingtonians are crowding the Columbia a second week to see Erich von Stroheim's great picture "The Merry Widow." As I recently heard the opera in Spanish Buenos Aires I was doubly interested in the film. Tom Patterson, who reviewed it last week, praised it highly.

Tom, by the way, has resigned the dramatic editorship, as he is now a real newspaper man, on the editorial staff of the "News." Good luck, Tom.

JACK.

POET'S

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Rooney request the honor of your presence at Poet's this week, to meet their son, Patrick Rooney, Third. And a very delightful child he is, too. You'll enjoy yourself at the party. There is some fair singing, a lot of pretty costumes, with girls in them, and the cleverest dancing of the season.

The plot has the usual banalities, but there is one which is unusual enough in a musical show. Pat Rooney's singing is compensated for by his delightfully characteristic dancing. The son promises to be an adequate successor, Marion Bent, the rest of the family, supports. Comedy honors go to Rose Kessner, a long lanky female who gets her stringiness across. Mr. Rooney's specialty dancers are hot stuff, but I have seen better "Charleston."

All in all, it's a peach of a show. It is alleged that Mrs. Mina will not be interested in this show, as it is consistently clean. The Lord loves the Irish, and I've decided to agree with Him.

HELEN.

RIALTO

"Sporting Life," at the Rialto, is an adaptation of the famous Drury Lane stage success of the same name and is directed by Maurice Tourneur. It contains scenes of London night life, horse races, and prize fights. Bert Lytell plays the part of Lord Woodstock, dyed-in-the-wool sportsman. The feminine star is Marian Nixon.

As for the plot, His Lordship, although very busy promoting prize fights, races, etc., finds time to fall in love with a commoner. After routing a persistent and ingenious flock of villains he wins her.

The subsidiary attractions include an interesting presentation of incidents from the life of Schubert, the great composer. Also the "Fashion Show and Fads of the Day." A newswear, an overture, and a cartoon comedy of Felix the cat complete the bill.

TOM.

METROPOLITAN

The Met has a uniformly entertaining bill this week, including an amusing feature, a clever comedy with Lloyd Hamilton, an excellent overture, a melodic novelty, and the usual news.

The luscious Corinne Griffith is once more on view, causing the customary astigmatism in the male element. Her current vehicle, "Classified," reveals her as a socially ambitious young working girl, of poor but dishonest parents, who plays a trifle too much with a young mil-

CHEMICS HEAR LECTURE BY AUTHORITY ON DYES

At a meeting of the Chemical Society last Wednesday night Dr. Robert S. Rose, of the Dupont Company, gave a lecture on "Dyes."

Dr. Rose reviewed briefly the history of synthetic dyes and the most important figures connected with its history. He emphasized the difficulties and complexities in such a field and also the absorbing interest to be found in compounding dyes. Throughout he illustrated his remarks with slides colored with the dyes in question, and on which were the formulas of the dyes.

Dr. Rose graduated from Leipzig University. He taught for a number of years at St. Andrews in Edinburgh and later in Seattle University, in Washington. Still later he gave up teaching and entered the Dupont Company.

SIGMA KAPPA HOSTESS AT DEAN ROSE'S TEA

The next of the teas given by Dean Anna Rose to the University women will be on November 25, 1925, from 4.30 to 6.00 p. m. The Sigma Kappa's will have a chance to demonstrate their ability as hostesses. A high standard has been set by the former hostesses.

These teas are greatly enjoyed by the girls, and help toward bringing them closer together, to say nothing of saving a few lives. You know how 'tis, 5 o'clock, an empty feeling, and two classes more to go.

BOB HARMON FORECASTS BIG YEAR FOR GLEEMEN

The Men's Glee Club made its first appearance of the season last week, singing Thursday night before the Convention of the Association of Urban Universities, in session here, and singing on Saturday afternoon at the dedicatory ceremonies in Stockton Hall. The club was well received on both occasions.

Director "Bob" Harmon is delighted with the prospect ahead of the club, and predicts a successful season. At present, however, the organization is still in the formative stage and has much hard work ahead of it in order to get ready for a series of concerts scheduled.

lionaire, and wears out three pairs of Queen Quality boots getting back home. Back home to a routine but romantic existence with a go-getting guy from a garage! There are some delightful subtleties, and the picture as a whole is funny, but it suffers from a dose of moral mush. In the supporting cast Charlie Murray, Ward Crane, and Jack Mulhall are good.

I sat in for a couple of hands at the matinee beside two flappers who very audibly analyzed a certain Abe and Jake. Len Hall and a big flicker and reel man, visible directly in front of me grew wroth at this and cast scornful glances at the girls, and then proceeded to make a Dickens of a racket on their own account.

BELASCO

Confound these mothers—they yell around and, and throw dishes at poor old pa, who takes it all so seriously. They are not content with memories—they want so much to love and be loved again. The facts of physiology are stacked against them, but they go right on yelling.

But all of the "Mumseys" haven't the fire of Mary Young, who plays such a part at the Belasco this week. And few bachelors are as charming as John Halliday—he does well as the rascal. Nor can I leave out Dorothy Burgess, who makes "Kittens" more than a character. You have heard and seen it all at home—now trot your little self down to the playhouse and see it on the stage. The foot-light people have the advantage of the home-folks in this—they play the game through, and no weeping. The mother goes to Europe and misery while Dad stays home, tragically unaccustomed to a silent house. Edgar Selwyn who gives us the stage presentation of this great American drama, must be married.

Drink it down, Jack—we've got it all before us. Yeah, that's correct, let the dern wind blow—ish oushde, ole shapple, so wash the difference?

BOB.

PALACE

"The Tower of Lies" with Lon Chaney and Norma Shearer is showing this week at the Palace. We do hereby jointly declare that Lon Chaney is not only the master of make-up but he is a consummate actor as well. All of which means that we liked the show. The story, adapted from a novel of the so-called repressed Nordics, is full of tragedy and pathos.

The direction and settings are very good and do credit to Victor Seastrom and his able assistants. Although Lon Chaney has no terrifying make-up to delight the eye, his portrayal of a trusting father shows another side of his artistry. The piquant charm of Norma Shearer lends much to the picture and Ian Keith is a convincing villain. On the whole, the film is well acted, which atones for the weakness of the plot.

In addition, your four bits entitles you to see the Topics, Magazine, Pathe newsreel and a not too funny comedy with Our Gang, and best of all, you may enjoy Tom Gannon's music, which is among the best in town.

ELBERT and JOE.

DOYLE AND REUDIGER NAMED AS DELEGATES

Professor Henry Grattan Doyle and Dean William Carl Reudiger have been appointed delegates for George Washington University to the thirty-ninth annual convention of the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the Middle States and Maryland, to be held under the auspices of Columbia University in New York, November 27 and 28. President Lewis is a vice president of this organization, which embraces practically all the colleges from New York south, including the District of Columbia and many of its secondary schools.

Professor Doyle is secretary of the Association of Foreign Language Teachers, a group which will hold its session Saturday at Columbia University. ## CONSTITUTION ADOPTED BY TECH ALUMNI CLUB

The first meeting of the Tech Club of G. W. U. was held in Corcoran Hall at 8 o'clock on November 13, 1925. Mr. Van Heukroth acted as chairman and Mr. Mason as temporary secretary. A constitution was read and adopted with several minor changes. It was voted that Alumnae of Tech now in G. W. U. be invited to join the club.

Mr. Myers of the Tech and also of the G. W. faculty, spoke on the need of such a club that could send speakers to Tech to speak on college courses and how to prepare for them in high school. Mr. Myers was unanimously elected to full membership, although he is not a student. Mr. Van Heukroth then outlined the plans of the year for the Tech Club and spoke of helping to create a school spirit in G. W. that would equal the famous spirit of Tech.

Election of officers will take place at the next meeting, December 4. Further information can be had from Mr. Van Heukroth by calling Columbia 6031.

Kissing a girl just because she wants you to is like scratching a place that doesn't itch.—Exchange.

DER DEUTSCHER VEREIN PLAN "GERMAN SUPPER"

At the last meeting of the German Club at the home of the president, Mr. Marchetti, plans were discussed for another "German Supper." Four members were added to the roll.

A silver gift was presented to the youngest honorary member of the club, George Alvin McNish. Music, dancing and eats finished up a live evening. The next meeting of the club will be a hike along Difficult Run on the Sunday after Thanksgiving.

BUFFALO FALLS BEFORE TERRIFIC G. W. ATTACK

dodged past the entire Bison team for another marker.

Just before the end of the first half Coleman smashed through center for 25 yards, placing the ball on the 6-yard line. Wilton tore through the line, making the score 32 to 0.

Bisons Threaten.

A fumble, followed by a penalty, gave the Blue and White the oval on G. W.'s 30-yard line. It was then that Schaffner dropped back to attempt a field goal in an effort to save his team from a white-washing. His boot missed the goal posts by inches. An exchange of kicks followed by a triple pass brought the invaders to the 30-yard line. Here again, they tried for a three-pointer, and here again they failed.

Late in the third quarter, Allshouse blocked a kick, and a pass, Sapp to Mock, was good for 25 yards. Sapp then slipped past the short side of the line for the sixth tally. Sapp opened the last period by letting fly a pass to Growton, who carried it to the 2-yard line before he was hauled down. Wilton made the touchdown by a vicious lunge through center. Sapp kicked the extra point.

Wilton caught Metz's kickoff on his 5-yard stripe, and raced to mid-field, where he was dropped. Sapp then sailed 40 yards around the end, and Wilton scored his fourth touchdown of the afternoon. Wilton again returned the kickoff to the 50-yard line, and Mock galloped to the enemy 15-yard marker. On the next play, Coleman pulled his sensational stunt. While he was running at full tilt, the ball slipped from his grasp, hit the ground, and bounced back into his hands. It was a perfect dribble.

The final score of the game occurred late in the fourth period, when Zacher, who had been called from his tackle position to punt, let a bad pass go over his head and fell on the pigskin behind his goal, thus adding two more points to George Washington's score.

HOLTON ARMS WINS FIRST HOCKEY TILT

George Washington Girls Lose to Fast Team by 1 to 0
Score

FEW STUDENTS AT GAME

Alice Haines Chosen Captain of Team at Election Held Before
First Contest

Fast playing was a marked feature of the hockey game between George Washington and Holton Arms on the Ellipse field, November 18, in which Holton scored the single point of the 1-0 score shortly before the end of an interesting conflict between two evenly matched teams.

The first half of the game showed fast playing, and both sides displayed good teamwork and nice passing. The ball was taken down into Holton territory time after time and only small errors kept it from passing over the line for a score for George Washington. The front line was splendid, and with a little more open passing and determination would several times have pushed the ball through Holton's backfield. The George Washington back line protected the goal so well that the ball was seldom dangerously near the goal guard.

Thrown on Defense

The second half opened with the same rush of opposing teams, but this time the play was on more of a defensive line on the part of George Washington's team. The break came a few minutes before the end of the half when Georgiana Joyce, captain, carried the score across the goal as a result of clever passing along the Holton front line. The game continued to be hard played and close, but without further scoring until the end.

Leah Cate, left wing, was conspicuous on the front line for her fast playing and driving force. Louise Du Bose, right halfback, played a splendid game of interference and passing in which she showed nice stick-work. The fullbacks, Alice Haines and Mary K. Lutz, were always dependable and at times sensational in their playing. The game was refereed by both Miss Reed, Holton coach, and Miss Hopkins, coach for G. W.

George Washington students were notably lacking at the Holton game. President Lewis, busy as he is, found time to encourage the team by his presence, and a few faithful friends gathered to raise a rather pitiful yell or two in defiance of the lusty shouts of the Holton crowd.

Alice Haines Chosen Team's Captain.

Miss Hopkins selected a Varsity team on November 16, and from that group eleven were chosen for the opening game. The other girls on the Varsity team are Betty Kilbourne, Jessie Booth, Elizabeth Brandenburg, Ruth Jackson, Elizabeth DeKay, Alice Adams, and Mae Huntsburger.

Before the Holton game the team held elections and Alice Haines was chosen captain for the coming season. Practice will continue this week and girls will be chosen for the Varsity games according to merit. The team showed up well against its first competitor and much is looked for in the match on December 4 with Marjorie Webster and later with other Washington teams.

Line-up was as follows:

G. W. U.	Pos.	Holton
Leah Cate	L. W.	Anne C. Green
Abbie Burke	L. I.	Marion Wells
